

36. Carrying an actor/object through different locations

Several Comedies (The Fast Show, Alexei Sayle, Armando Iannucci) have used the technique of tracking a walking actor who gives first-party narration to the camera in different locations, then seamlessly cutting between them. The same technique could be tried with a dancing actor or significant object or prop.